

Dressage NSW (DNSW) is the controlling body for dressage riding in NSW.

It is committed to the development and promotion of the sport from junior level to Olympic representation. It seeks to improve all aspects of competition to internationally accepted levels and provides a comprehensive service to its members.

DNSW is a discipline Council of Equestrian NSW and is the controlling body for dressage in NSW and represents dressage in NSW at a National level.

DNSW also

- Makes recommendations on rule changes and contributes to the formulation of rules through the Australian Dressage Committee (ADC);
- Represents and supports dressage Clubs in NSW;
- Represents NSW riders at all levels;
- Through its Committee, approves grading and downgrading of horses/ponies;
- Maintains and approves the dressage calendar;
- Responsible for the education of judges in NSW;
- Conducts regular seminars and workshops for the education of judges and other officials
- Conducts exams for judges;
- Provides regular training clinics for riders;
- Establishes the dressage squads for NSW;

- Provides financial support for riders representing NSW at State and National Championships;
- Conducts regular dressage events at its home ground at Clarendon (managed by the Clarendon Sub-Committee);
- Conducts or oversees events such as the NSW State Championships, the NSW Young Rider Championships and the NSW Pony Dressage Championships;
- Through sub committees, conducts major events such as the Sydney CDI and National Championships;

DNSW has currently around 700 members. Approximately 55 Regional and Metropolitan Dressage & Riding Clubs from throughout NSW are affiliated with Dressage NSW through Equestrian NSW. You can get information on Clubs in the different areas from the Dressage NSW Admin. Secretary. Clubs in NSW.

DNSW supports young riders and holds regular clinics and protocol days with registered EA Coaches. A Young Riders Development scheme is also in place to assist riders with their training and development. Young riders must be under 21 years of age and do not have to be members of the DNSW to participate in young rider activities.